

Fort Scott Community College and the Gordon Parks Museum are committed to protecting your privacy. Any information you voluntarily provide to us through a Fort Scott Community College website such as email address, name, or phone number will never be sold or traded to other colleges, universities, nonprofit organizations, or businesses. Fort Scott Community College might use this information to inform you of changes to our website or to provide you other news and information about that site that we believe would be of interest to you. At your request, Fort Scott Community College will remove any contact information you provide from its files.

Information gathered automatically

Unless you take steps to browse the Internet anonymously, Fort Scott Community College, similar to most institutions and organizations on the Internet, tracks web browsing patterns to inform understanding of how our sites are being used. Generic information is collected through the use of “cookies,” which are text files placed on your computer, to evaluate usage patterns so that we can improve both content and distribution. You may refuse the use of cookies by selecting the appropriate settings on your browser; however, doing so may prevent you from using the full functionality of all of our websites. The generic information we collect is based on IP address, which is the location of a computer or network, and is not linked to your specific email address in any of the reports or other material compiled by Fort Scott Community College. Fort Scott Community College will not associate your IP address and web usage data with any other information held by Fort Scott Community College that can specifically identify you unless required to do so by law.

Information you provide to us

To communicate effectively with visitors to our website, we may ask you for personally-identifiable information that can include, by way of illustration, name, email address or phone number. Fort Scott Community College will never sell or trade personally-identifiable information you voluntarily provide to us such as name, email address or phone number, to other colleges, universities, nonprofit organizations, or businesses unless one or more of the following conditions apply:

- We have your consent to share the information.
- We are sharing such information in response to subpoenas, court orders, or legal processes

External links

Some Fort Scott Community College websites may contain links to external websites not owned by, or officially affiliated with, Fort Scott Community College in any way. Fort Scott Community College is not responsible for the privacy practices or the content of such websites.

Changes to this policy

Fort Scott Community College reserves the right to change this policy at any time by notifying visitors of existence and location of the new or revised privacy policy.

Gifts

Any gifts given will be through the Fort Scott Community College Gordon Parks Center

Foundation. The Gordon Parks Foundation is a 501 ©(3) organization whose primary purpose is to support the various functions of the Gordon Parks Center for Culture and Diversity/Museum through donations and efforts.
